Bloxwich Golf Course

As part of an on-going regeneration of the course facilities, Bloxwich Golf Club specified KBI Flexipave as the material for the access paths to the first tee, practice greens and clubhouse. Laying almost 600sq/m of HD1500, the result is a stunning new look for the golf club and one that has raised the standard and perception of the facility amongst staff, members and visitors. PMP Surfacing will continue to work closely with the club, having been commissioned to replace all other access and buggy paths on the course over the next five years.

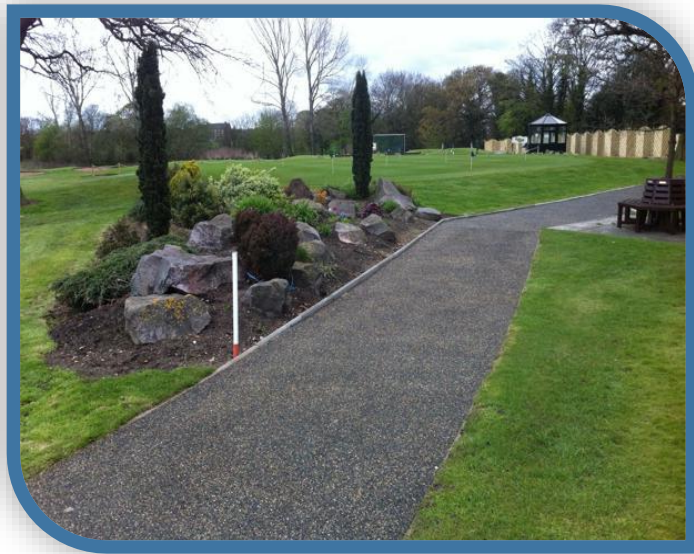

Speaking about the project,
Graham Pell, Director for PMP
Europe said:

“We are absolutely thrilled with the sections that have been completed. The quality of the finish achieved by our installation team is first class, transforming the old access paths and raising the standard of the course presentation. The nature of our material means that the new paths are also extremely quiet. When buggies or golf trolleys are used on them, there is virtually no noise. This has also contributed to an improved overall standard within the club.”

Graham Pell continues:

“In addition to the visual and acoustic improvement, the major benefit to the club is the elimination of standing water on all of the paths that have been re-laid with KBI Flexipave. This has improved the experience for players and made sure that clear, safe access is available even in harsh weather.”
